No Evidence of Drive On Germany, JFK Told

Berliners Uneasy

As Summit Nears

PARIS (UPI) - President Kennedy's key advisers have told him there is no evidence that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev plans to make any new move against Berlin or Germany before November at the earliest.

This was disclosed today by high U.S. officials who expressed concern at a rash of stories from Paris speculating on possible new Allied military moves to meet a renewed Berlin crisis.

They said these stories were highly specula-tive and had given an erroneous impression of the atomsphere in which Kennedy and French President Charles de Gaulle were discussing European and other affairs.

How to Wreck an Industry

THE UNITED FISHERMEN AND Allied Workers' Union is negotiating with the packers of British in salmon prices this year. No doubt if it fails to get what it wants, the union will strike, as usual. Between 1947 and 1961 it has disrupted one phase of the fishing industry or another 21 times. Few if any industries in North America have been so riddled by strikes, the chief results being continual in-creases in the price of fish and frequent idleness of the fisherme

Now the union demands that the price paid to fishermen for sockeye salmon be increased by 12½ per cent; for coho, 36 per cent; for chums 77.7 per cent; for red springs, 63.6 per cent; for steelhead, 36 per cent; and for jacks 163 per cent; and for jacks 163 per cent. cent; and for jacks, 163 per cent.

Since the price paid to them for fish represents the fishermen's wages it will be seen that they are demanding wage increases far excess of those suggested by most unions, or probably by any union on this continent. In addition, the union demands large new welfare benefits that would increase the costs to the operators by about 10 per cent.

These proposals are advanced, with the customary threat of a strike, at a time when competition is increasing in the fishing industry throughout the world, when foreign nations such as Russia and Japan are scouring the Pacific Ocean for fish to be sold in the world market.

Already this year the results of the continual drive for higher fish prices have been demonstrated in the case of whaling. Unable to meet the demands of the union, the operators have laid up the whaling fleet again. About 150 workers who could have been earning good wages are idle, or working in other industries. The operators have lost their chance of profits and the British Columbia economy has l a substantial source of income while other nations catch and sell the

With his own boat and valuable gear, he is a small, independent capitalist, a hard worker and an excellent citizen who only seeks the opportunity to make a reasonable living.

But this union is controlled by Communist leaders. Its secretary and effective boss, Mr. Homer and effective boss, Mr. Homer Stevens, is a dedicated Communist, who has run for public office (with out being elected) as a Communist candidate, whose mission is to destroy our existing social and economic system. The continual disorganization of the industry, and the frequent idleness of the various fishing fleets, doesn't seem to worry Mr. Stevens and of course he blames everything on the operators.

A Clouded Future

SOUTH AFRICA IS A REPUBLIC today, its streets patrolled by O today, its streets patrolled by armed troops, its jails filled with hundreds of South Africans held on political charges, thousands of its native residents in anti-republican demonstrations, and its tiny white minority living in daily fear of a country-wide uprising.

So "freedom" comes to South Africa-freedom from membership in the Commonwealth, spiritual ostracism from a family of nations which is based on freedom, and final separation from any connection with the throne.

Adoption of the republican form of government was not a factor in South Africa's departure from the Commonwealth India, for instance, has remained within the group although abandoning allegiance to the throne. The break came entirely as a result of Premier Ver-woerd's refusal to alter his government's strict policies of racial discrimination.

Those policies are continuing, enforced by about a million and a there is no sign of half Afrikaans-speaking whites on more than 10 million blacks and colored people and against the protests of most of the million and a half white citizens of British origin. South Africa is now the sole remaining African country governed entirely by whites. it is an outpost, a redoubt against the rising tide of insistence by the native peoples that they shall control their own destiny. Although that control may be sadly mishandled, as in The Congo, time and education will solve the problem. The problem of South Africa, and of Premier Verwoerd's govern-ment, is how long it can continue to resist the tide, how long it can try to repulse it by increasingly harsh measures.

The republic enters upon its new life in a fundamentally perilous position. Its domestic policy is based on principles of white supremacy which have been under the supremacy and have now been toppled throughout most of the world. Beyond much doubt, Premier Khrush chev now believes the Western allies do not mean to do this for two main rea-sons: because of the hesitancies and sons: because of the hesitancies and tergiversations that marked the Eisenhower administration's response to the Berlin challenge; and because of the British government's open loathing for the contingency plan their own military representatives have joined in devising. Both agreed that it was their duty, on coming to Canada, to speak as Canadians. Their respective children were being raised in our tongue and seldom heard the language of the parent country in the house.

Eavesdropping, because I couldn't help it, I made the mental wish that the youngsters would, however, gain some mastery of the language of their fathers. Fluency in for-eign speech can be, and will be, increasingly valuable for Canadians, who get around more than they used to.

The woman from Germany said with evident satisfaction that she was a Canadian had received her papers last year. It was her intention to raise her youngsters as Canadians.

Later in the day, on another bus, riding back to Tsawwassen, I encountered an epilogue to the small drama. There's an excellent rebuttal to that cry of alarm. Good students taking the stiffer courses are given all the English they can handle and of a type which compares more than favorably with the courses their par ents took. It is possible, on the other hand, for a Canadian youngster to pass through school with a certain immunity to English. He can give it just enough effort to acquire pass grades and can be relatively inarticulate as he moves on to higher education. That's more his fault than his teacher's, in most

A recent survey in the United States emphasized the need for fluency. Fifty years ago, according to the survey, just a third of the American labor force needed skills in language to perform adequately. Today the proportion is half of all workers and the ing continues in the same direction.

Of course every Canadian is not going to master English, any more than every per-son born in any other country is going to master his native tongue. Some haven't the ability. Others lack the opportunity.

Our misfortune seems to be that too many Canadians lacking neither the ability nor the opportunity just won't make the effort to prove their command of English.

The two European women on the Van-couver bus gave a pretty clear indication that their youngsters would grow up with skills in the language of this country, if par-ental persuasion meant anything. The foreign-born gentleman going to Tsawwassen furnished proof that his son had,

U.S. Problems

WASHINGTON (AP) with the Dominican Republic is just begin-ning for the United States. The assassination of dictator Rafael Leonidas Trujillo solved nothing.

The 69-year-old Trujillo, after 31 years of tyranny, had out-lived his particular time. The middle class had risen against him. Exiles had invaded him. The Roman Catholic Church had denounced him. And most Latin America nations had broken relations with him. He survived as long as he did-on sheer muscle at a time when social revolutions were sweeping not only Latin America but the world. What outdated him was this:

While all around him the masses of Latin America were demanding greater gratification of their desire for a better life, and a better part in it, he kept his so-called republic frozen in the old ways.

Fidel Castro in Cuba is no less a dictator, with the same contempt for democratic processes. But, beside Trujillo, he looks extremely modern with his promises of a richer life and a sense of belonging for the Cuban masses,

The real struggle eventually in the Dominican Republic will be between Communism and the U.S. Meaning: the influence the U.S. can bring to bear through economic aid and support for a reform government. At this point it's impossible to say on which side the odds lie. It depends on how far the U.S. government is willing to go to keep Communism out of the hemisphere. The Kennedy administration insists it will not intervene in another nation's affairs, but did just the opposite in backing the Cuban invasion. The area in and around the Dominican Republic is getting ripe for explosion. Sharing the same island with it is Haiti, where living conditions and ignorance are appalling.

And right across a narrow strip of water, called the windward passage, is the Cuba of Castro who back in 1949 took part in an invasion against Trujillo. The Domin ican dictator demolished it.

But Castro now is in better position for avasion and subversion than he was in 1949 when he was simply a discontented nobody. If he is truly Communism's assigned instrument in the Caribbean, he will move against the Haiti-Dominican island.

U.S. AIRLINES MERGE

WASHINGTON (AP) - The largest United States airline merger goes into effect today with the absorption of Capital Airlines by United Air Lines.

The merger with fifth ranking Capital moves United from second into undisputed first place in the industry, well ahead of American Airlines. It reduces the list of domestic trunk airlines from 12 to 11.

The result is an organization of 30,000 employees, serving 117 cities on 18,000 miles of routes.

LOOKS AT SPORTS

WAKE THE WORLD AND TELL THE PEOPLE: Congratulation to George 'Porky Andrews, physical education director at Victoria High School, on the arrival of a baby daughter this week.

Jack Hodgson, president of Lakehill Little League has a telephone number that would delight a cribbage player—9-3939. And if you want to see a slick infield take a look at Bob Vining's Seven-Up quartet in the same league.

TALK-IS-INEXPENSIVE DEPT: After Cuban jockey Aveilno Gomez had ridden four winners one day at Toronto's old Woodbine, Mike Armstrong of the Star wrote: "There's no doubt that he's the best rider in the land". Parochial pride is fine, Mr. Armstrong. . But there are riding horses such as Willie Shoemaker, John Longden, Eddie Arcaro, Manuel Ycaza and Johnny Sellers who many thank are better than Percent Will. Park constitutions. think are better than Beacon Hill Park cavalrymen.

BY ALL MEANS: Few people know it, but the man BY ALL MEANS: rew people show it, out the main at the starting gate in last week's Preakness won by Carry Back was Eddle Blind of, Vancouver. Such is his ability that noted sports columnists Red Smith and the late 40e Palmer frequently made it a point to discuss his

bloodline thoroughbreds.

"Two elderly owners watched Blind with condescension," wrote Palmer. "They had never schooled two-year-olds so naturally they knew how.
"'Ought to put lumps of sugar on the edges and hang carrots in the gate, said one of them. The horses would be glad to go in. Couldn't keep them out." "Into the mind of listeners," wrote Palmer, "crept a fascinating picture of a Futurity Field scudding down the straightaway at Belmont, with a couple of sugarschooled two-year-olds still standing in the gate, looking for something to eat.

The Eddie Blind system envisions getting horses out of the gate, as well as in."

PANIC IN THE ROUDOIR: A New York radio station received 12,000 entries when it sought letters from youngsters on "Why I want to be a bat boy for a day with the New York Yankees"... About 100 girls were among the eager entrants but their letters were set aside on the grounds that baseball is strictly a man's game . . . The finalists were weeded down to one, Theo Cornellus, 15

... When agents of the contest ran down Theo, "he" turned out to be "she"... Regretfully they took the honor away and resumed the search—for a boy batboy... They didn't forget Theo, however... She will be guest of the Yankees June 7 when she will be introduced to the players.

ONE MAN'S OPINION: Hydroplane racing has always impressed as a legitimate means of getting away from it all permanently . . . Now comes word that the Diamond Cup races on Lake Coeur D'Alene July 22-23 will carry a $10,000 prize package . . . Any survivors are eligible for the $400,000 Seafair race at Seattle Aug. 6 . . . So why worry about a little life and limb with all that alfalfa?

OUTDOOR REPORT Doug Peden

It's that time of year when motorists are spotting deer fawns along the highways and side roads and feeling sorry the little critters, apparently abandoned in the world by their mothers.

It's also the time when the fish and game branch gives out with it's annual plea and warning-"leave the little

People who pick up a fawn almost always believe they doing the animal's a favor. In most cases, they are being cruel by separating the shaky-legged little fawns from their mothers. In almost every case, the doe will be hiding in nearby busn waiting for the humans and their biles to move along so she can get back to her offspring.

Trying to care for a fawn actually cuts down its chances for survival. It is also illegal and laws provide a penalty for anybody taking a live wild animal or bird into session without a special permit. Game branch officials have taken a lenient look in the past but indicate they are liable to crack down this year.

Says Inspector Bob Sinclair:

"We will not hesitate to prosecute anybody we find picking up fawns this year."

In case you're interested, the maximum fine for such an act is $300.

CONSTRUCTION STRIKES FACE CURB IN QUEBEC

Birtoria Bailu Times THURS., JUNE 1, 1961 13

QUEBEC (CP) - The legislative assembly Wednes day approved in principle a government bill giving the cabinet power to ban strikes, lockouts, slowdowns and picketing in the construction industry of a given area. The cabinet would have this power only if a union and an employer agreed to it in a valid collective agreement.

Specifically, the cabinet's power would be to extend to all building activities within the region where the collective bargaining agreement is in affect any provision banning strikes, lockouts, slowdowns and picketing. Labor Minister Rene Hamel said the bill, an amendment of the Quebec Collective Agreements Act, was requested by the big general contractors and building unions in Montreal.

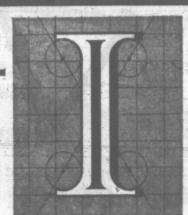

The Union Nationale opposition attacked the amendment.

CHANNEL 4 OFFERED a most interesting docu mentary Tuesday night. It was entitled 'The Flabby American' but 1 feel reasonably sure that it could have been called "The Flabby Canadian" equally as 13, 13.

frightening, the national heart.

It seems that from the ages of 18 to 30 most of Viewers were taken to the U.S. Marine's boot camp at Parris Island, S.C., to watch some of the difficulties being encountered by recruits in Uncle Sam's elite corps. Many were failing the simplest tests, such chinning the bar, pushups and so on. Marine Sergea or mahogany doors.

CABINETS, Plate glass Ettlenne Esker admitted that when a recruit was reason and so on. Marine Sergean opular size 99.56. Double ably proficient at such a ably proficient at such calesthenics he "stood out like a sore thumb."

One gathered from it all that the American male and female were suffering not only from the disease of our age known as "pushbuttonitis," but from another one that, unfortunately, is North America's alone, the one called "spectatoritis."

In sport only the very talented make "the team."

Those who don't form the vast multitudes of onlookers, those lans who acquire their muscles by sitting on their broadening sterns while eating peanuts, red hots and imbibing incalculable gallons of beer, pop and coffee.

In contrast the cameras focused on the youths of other countries as they fook part in mass demonstrations of muscle-building gymnastics.

WHILE ON THIS note: It was learned that 90 per cent of U.S. elementary schools had no gyms or any set form of physical fitness training. Yale University noted the gradual deterioration of physical fitness of its enrollees since the Second World War. In 1947 about 51 per cent passed their tests. A few years later this number had dropped to 43 per cent and today it lags at a rather discouraging 34 per cent, One interesting comparison was between 10,000

U.S. boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 13 with the same number of their counterparts in the British Isles.

Not only did the British boys prove superior to U.S. boys but some of the British girls proved superior to U.S. boys.

However, the English representative on the sh looked rather glum about these findings. He had hoped, he said, for the tests to show exactly the contrary in order to have an excuse to crack down on the British moppets.

Physical culturist Bonnie Prudden had stern words for babies and babes. After demonstrating how preschool children took to muscle-building like an infant Atlas, she warned the girls against worrying about exercise contributing to big, unfeminine muscles.

"Remember," she told the class, "behind every curve there is a muscle. It's as simple as that. No muscles, no curves!" Anyhow, I found it all most disturbing. No one would want to dispute the fact that I have no muscles. But, please, where am I getting all these darned queer es from?"

From now on I'm going to turn over a new leaf. down.

No Evidence of Drive On Germany, JFK Told

PARIS (UPI) — President Kennedy's key advisers have told him there is no evidence that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev plans to make any new move against Berlin or Germany before November at the earliest.

This was disclosed today by high U.S. office ials who expressed concern at a rash of stories from Paris speculating on possible new Allied mili-tary moves to meet a renewed Berlin crisis.

They said these stories were highly speculative and had given an erroneous impression of the atomsphere in which Kennedy and French President Charles de Gaulle were discussing European and other effairs. and other affairs.
